

Concert Attire for Men

Tuxedo is preferred, black suit is acceptable: Must be plain and entirely black. No stripes, plaids, herringbone, tweed, or any other pattern. No velvet, velour, lace, metallic or satin trim; however, satin lapels and a single satin stripe down the trouser leg are acceptable.

Shirts: A white tuxedo shirt is preferred if a tuxedo is worn, with a plain white shirt as an alternative. Pleats are acceptable. Ruffles are not acceptable.

Shirt Studs: Must be black or white. Standard white shirt buttons also acceptable.

Bow Tie: Required. Must be plain and entirely black.

Cummerbund: Optional. Must be plain and entirely black unless it is completely invisible to the audience when your jacket is buttoned.

Shoes: Must be completely black. Patent leather is acceptable. No beads, non-black buckles or any other adornment.

Socks: Must be black opaque.

Jewelry: Ear jewelry is acceptable as stud-style or up to a 1/2" drop.

Headbands: Hair bands or ties are acceptable if not clearly visible from the front.

No other ornamentation, including hats or neck scarves, may be worn.

Note: Coats to be buttoned during concert, including entry and exit.
